The seal of Asheville, North Carolina, is circular and features a landscape with mountains and a river. The text "ASHEVILLE" is arched across the top and "N. C." is at the bottom.

Vol4/Issue 8

AU11/25

Hi everybody! Once again it's time for the Asheville stamp club this coming Sunday August 17 at 1:30 at the Deerfield Community Center. Always the highlight of the month! This edition will feature our second silent auction featuring the balance of the large collection that the club acquired earlier this year. There will be about a dozen interesting and intriguing lots from many countries and topics to wet your appetite and enhance your collection.

We will also try something new and fun made popular at the Raleigh Stamp Club when Kathy was president. It will be a test of skill and knowledge in a philatelic multiple choice quiz. The winner will win a significant prize of stamps for fun and profit. It should be a world of fun!

On display will be our usual features of new five cent stamps, door prizes, 50-50 draw, the free table, Show and Tell and as always the chance to get together with our stamp friends. There will also be a live auction, so don't hesitate to bring in your goodies for sale and remember your contributions to the free table. I usually find something for myself if I get there soon enough, however I'm usually the last in line and I'm happy that everyone else is finding useful things.
